25X1

25 YEAR RE-REVIEW

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

INFORMATION REPORT

This Document contains information affecting the Mattienal Defense of the United States, within the meaning of Title 18, Sections 753 and 75, of the U.S. Code, as amended. Its transmission or revelation of its contents to or receipt by an unauthorised person is prohibited by law. The reproduction of this form is prohibited.

DATE DISTR. 26 August 1953 NO. OF PAGES 3 DATE OF INFO. PLACE ACQUIRED This is UNEVALUATION in this secon and delimitive. THE SOURCE EVALUATION IN this secon and Delimitive. THE APPRAIAL OF CONTENT IS TRIVATIVE. THE APPRAIAL OF CONTENT IS TRIVATIVE. THE STRIPATIVE OF THE SECONDARY OF THE SECONDARY
This is UNEVALUATED Information THE SOURCE PLAUSIONS IN THE SEPORT ARE DEFINITIVE. THE APPRAISA OF CONTENT IS TRIVATIVE. THE APPRAISA OF CONTENT IS TRIVATIVE. THE APPRAISA OF CONTENT IS TRIVATIVE. (FOR REY SEE REVERS) 25. 25. 26. 1. The large cld sugar factory for location, see Annex A in Chropyne ASSIN-1722B was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Cottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing maghinery for the Plastimat plant. A Generales, who was obside of tides group, 25 also traveled throughout Csechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fmu) Hrabobsky. Was the most experienced designer of the group encaged in the
This is UNEVALUATED Information This source evaluations in this report are definitive. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne 4921N-1722F/ was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Cottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Sommunist, who was chief of tidis group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Frui) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer (of the group engaged in the
This is UNEVALUATED Information THE SOURCE EVALUATIONS IN THIS REPORT ARE DEFINITIVE. THE APPRAISA OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE. (FOR REV SES REVERS) 25. 1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex 7 in Chropyne A221N-1722B was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Segmunist, who was chief of tids group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fmu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
The source evaluations in this report are definitive. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne [ROR REV SEE REVERS] 1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne [A921N-1722B] was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, 1t is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Openunies, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Finu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne (POR NEW SEE REVERSE) 1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne (POR NEW SEE REVERSE) 25. 1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne (POR NEW SEE REVERSE) 26. 1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne (POR NEW SEE REVERSE) 1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne (POR NEW SEE REVERSE) 1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex of in Chropyne (POR NEW SEE REVERSE) 27. 28. 29. 20. 20. 20. 21. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 25. 26. 27. 27. 28. 28. 28. 29. 29. 29. 20. 20. 20. 20. 21. 21. 22. 23. 24. 26. 26. 27. 27. 28. 28. 29. 29. 29. 20. 20. 20. 20. 20
1. The large old sugar factory for location, see Annex 7 in Chropyne [A921N-1722B] was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Cottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Semmunist, who was chief of times group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
1. The large old sugar factory /for location, see Annex / in Chropyne /4921N-1722E/ was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Flastimat plant. A Sommuniet, who was chief of take group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the 4921N-1722E was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Spamunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
4921N-1722E was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Spamunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
4921N-1722E was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Spamunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
4921N-1722E was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Spamunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
4921N-1722E was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Spamunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
4921N-1722E was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Spamunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the 4921N-1722E was abolished by a special government commission sometime after 1945 because of the obsolete and unprofitable equipment of the factory. The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Spamunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Sommunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
The Svit plant in Gottwaldov was ordered sometime in 1948 to take over the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the premises of the former sugar factory, which included a complex of about 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Swit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Sparmunist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the 15 buildings, and to set up production there of goods from plastic materials. The plant was named Plastimat National Enterprise. The reconstruction of the plant started in 1949, it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Swit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
it is possible that the plant was set into operation at the end of 1950. 2. A small group of Swit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the of 1950. 2. A small group of Swit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the of 1950. 2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the
2. A small group of Svit designers, five or six men, started work in 1949 on designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the designing dies for pressing machinery for the Plastimat plant. A Communist, who was chief of this group, 25 also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the also traveled throughout Czechoslovakia selecting presses from enterprises for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the for production of plastic goods where production had stopped or was soon to be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the be stopped by government decision. The presses he chose were sent to the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the Plastimat plant in Chropyne. (Fnu) Hrabobsky was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the was the most experienced designer of the group engaged in the die designing project at Svit. (Fnu) Hodan, was another member of the group. The offices of this group were located in 25 the Svit plant in Gottwaldov on the third floor of building No. 64 and were next to the Research Textile Machines Section. All of the Designing Department of the Svit plant, along with the Testing Workshops, was located in this building. In addition, the workshop for production of needles was located there. Further members were added to this duction of needles was located there. Further members were added to this group of designers in the fall of 1950 and for reasons of space the group duction of needles was located there. Further members were added to this

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2009/11/06: CIA-RDP80-00810A002000010010-7

SECRET/SECURITY INFORMATION

25X1

3. The group designed, with complete success, equipment for pressing all the standard electric appliances normally produced from plastics, such as switches, plugs, fuse boxes, etc., and bobbins for textile machines. As a special task, they designed equipment for pressing plastic loom shuttles which were generally made from wood.

was most probably tested and set in trial operation in the Research Institute of the Svit plant in Gottwaldov.

Annex:

Y

A. Plastimat National Enterprise in Chropyne. Overlay on Map: Czechoslovakia, Prerov 4259, Scale 1:75,000.

SECRET

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2009/11/06 : CIA-RDP80-00810A002000010010-7

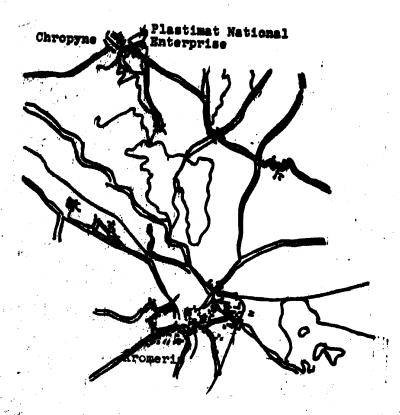

SECRET/SECURITY INFORMATION

Annex A:

- 3 -

25X1

Plästimat National Enterprise in Chrepyne. Overlay on Map: Czechoslovakia, Prerov 4259, Scale 1:75,000

SECRET